STABILITY OF LABOUR FORCE IS HISTADRUT'S GOAL

State. The figures, noted by the head of the Histodrut Trades Union Department. Mr. A. Beelar, in a recent speech are indicative of the present labour trend: the quest for stability. It is the contenties of Manaderekes that this trend is not simply accidental. On the contrary, the stability of the wage-carner's life was the goal which the Histadrut and the Histadrut representatives in the Government pursued through a series of concerted measures. The most debated act of the Histadrut in the past two years is the partial "wags freese"—or, as it is sometimes called by many speakers, "wags restraint." The issue, indeed, is one of the most tructal in the controversy which rages in Israel labour on the eve of the elections for the forthcoming national convention of the General Labour Federation.

LAUBANNE, Monday (Reuter).

The Organizing Committee for the 1985 Olympic Games in Melbourne is continuing to meet with "a great deal of trouble" and an on-the-spot investigation is to be made.

This was stated here by Mr. Otto Mayer. Chanceller of the International Olympic Committee, when reporting that the I.O.C. President Mr. Avery Brundage, of United States, intends to wisit Melbourne shortly "to see exactly what is going on."

There is very considerable opposition in Australia to the games being held there at all." Mr. Mayer declared, "and the Organizing Committee in Melbourne is constantly running into trouble. Mr. Brundage will try and find out what it is all about. "He will then report to our me et in g in Paris in June, which is being held to decide the sites for the 1900 Games."

Mayer mid that there was also trouble brewing over the way in which the Australian Organizing Committee was taking care of press accommodation in the 1906 Games.

There are apparently 1,080 seats reserved for the press and of these they are affering 15 for the entire French sporting press," he said. "We have already had a lotter from the French Press protesting in the most violent terms."

Mr. Mayer pointed out however that the 1906 Games would have to take place in Melbourne no matter what happened. It is far too late to try and find an alternative city, he added, "And in any event the award of the Games to Melbourne was confirmed at our meetings in Mexico City and Athens last you."

There had been nothing but trouble since the Games were awarded to Australia, Mr. Mayer said. The refusal of the Australian authorities to relax animal quarant that the horse jumping and dressage events had to be arranged elsewhere. (The equestrian events will be held-in Stockholm).
